(hereinafter "Rosenthal Act"), which prohibits debt collectors from engaging in abusive, deceptive, and unfair practices, intrusion upon seclusion, which California has adopted from §652B of the Restatement (Second) of Torts, and violation of the Telephone Consumer Protection Act 47 U.S.C. §227, et seq. - 3. Plaintiff brings this action against Defendant for its abusive and outrageous conduct in connection with debt collection activity.
- 4. In Calif. Civil Code § 1788.1(a)-(b), the California Legislature made the following findings and purpose in creating the Rosenthal Act:

Unfair or deceptive collection practices undermine the public confidence which is essential to the continued functioning of the banking and credit system and sound extensions of credit to consumers.
 - (2) There is need to ensure that debt collectors and debtors exercise their responsibilities to another with fairness and honesty and due regard or the rights of the other.
 - (b) It is the purpose of this title to prohibit debt collectors from engaging in unfair or deceptive acts of practices in the collection of consumer debts and to require debtors to act fairly in entering into and honoring such debts, as specified in this title.
- 5. While many violations are described below with specificity, this Complaint alleges violations of the statutes cited in their entirety.
- 6. The TCPA was designed to prevent calls like the ones described herein, and to protect the privacy of citizens like Plaintiff, and by enacting the TCPA, Congress

- 12. At all relevant times herein, TD Bank was a company engaged, by the use of mail, email, and telephone, in the business of collecting a debt from Plaintiff, and a "consumer debt," as defined by Cal. Civ. Code §1788.2(f).
- 13. At all relevant times, Defendant acted as a "debt collector" within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code §1788.2(c)
 - 14. Plaintiff opened an unsecured credit account with Defendant in early 2020.

- 16. Defendant has been attempting to collect on a debt that originated from monetary credit that was extended primarily for personal, family, or household purposes, and was therefore a "consumer credit transaction" within the meaning of Calif. Civil Code § 1788.2(3) of the Rosenthal Act.

transaction, the money allegedly owed was a "consumer debt" within the meaning of California Civil Code § 1788.2(f) of the Rosenthal Act.

- 18. Plaintiff is informed and believes that Defendant is one who regularly collects or attempts to collect debts on behalf of themselves, and is therefore a "debt collector" within the meaning of the Calif. Civil Code § 1788.2(c) of the Rosenthal Act, and thereby engages in "debt collection" within the meaning of the California Civil Code § 1788.2(b) of the Rosenthal Act, and is also therefore a "person" within the meaning of California Civil Code § 1788.2(g) of the Rosenthal Act.
- 19. Plaintiff's account was an unsecured credit card and Plaintiff began making payments on the account shortly after it was opened.
- 20. Plaintiff was making payments on the account for several years before he became financially unable to keep up with the monthly payments.
- 21. Defendant began contacting Plaintiff September of 2022 to inquire about the status of the account and to collect on the payments that were no longer being made.
- 22. Plaintiff retained counsel to assist in dealing with Defendant's debt and to seek some type of financial relief.
- 23. Counsel for Plaintiff sent Defendant an initial letter confirming representation of Plaintiff and informing Defendant that it was to no longer contact Plaintiff directly and that all calls/letters/collection efforts were to no longer be directed at Plaintiff.
- 24. The contents of the letter also informed Defendant that Plaintiff was withdrawing his consent to be contacted on his cellular telephone if any such consent had ever been previously given.
- 25. Counsel for Plaintiff sent the letter of representation to Defendant through certified mail on October 17, 2022.
- 26. Plaintiff informed Defendant that he was revoking his consent to be called on his cellular telephone in October of 2022.

- 27. Defendant continued to contact Plaintiff even after it had received Plaintiff's October 17, 2022 letter.
- 28. Despite being aware that Plaintiff was represented by counsel, TD Bank continued to place calls to Plaintiff's cellular telephone.
- 29. The actual call volume may be much higher as the number of calls placed by TD Bank to Plaintiff have overwhelmed Plaintiff and caused him to experience a significant amount of anxiety and stress.
- 30. In addition to the constant collection calls that were placed to Plaintiff, Defendant continued to send collection notices and payment demands through email and regular mail, despite being aware that Plaintiff was represented by counsel.
- 31. Defendant would often call Plaintiff numerous times each day demanding payment on the account.
- 32. Defendant would use an automatic dialing machine when placing the calls to Plaintiff.
- 33. Defendant's automatic dialing machine contains the capacity to randomly dial numbers.
- 34. Defendant would leave pre-recorded messages on Plaintiff's cellular telephone.
- 35. Most of the messages left by Defendant when Plaintiff did not answer the collection calls were pre-recorded.
- 36. Defendant's intentional interference with Plaintiff's privacy caused Plaintiff to experience a sense of helplessness and anxiety and he was concerned the ongoing harassment would continue to interfere with his daily life and routine.
- 37. Plaintiff was contacted repeatedly regarding non-payment of the debt owed to Defendant despite Defendant being notified that Plaintiff had retained counsel to deal specifically with the debt owed to Defendant and that Plaintiff revoked consent to be contacted on his cellular telephone.

- 38. Defendant's calls were frequent in nature and continued despite receiving written confirmation that Plaintiff was represented by an attorney and that all calls to Plaintiff's cellular telephone were to stop.
- 39. Defendant intentionally ignored Plaintiff's certified letter of representation of revocation of consent and willfully attempted to coerce Plaintiff into making payment on her account by overwhelming her cellular telephone with auto dialed calls.
- 40. TD Bank intended to frustrate and annoy Plaintiff at all times of the day, regardless of where Plaintiff was and ignoring that Plaintiff retained counsel to address his TD Bank account.
- 41. Despite receiving written notice regarding Plaintiff's representation by counsel and revocation of her consent to be contacted on his cellular telephone Defendant continued to call and contact Plaintiff daily regarding his account with Defendant.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Intrusion Upon Seclusion) (Against Defendant TD Bank)

- 64. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates herein the allegations in each and every paragraph above as set forth herein.
- 65. The California legislature explicitly recognized a consumer's inherent right to privacy in collection matters in passing the Rosenthal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act and incorporating most of the Federal Act's provisions into the Rosenthal Act.

- 66. According to findings by the FCC, the agency Congress vested with authority to issue regulations implementing the TCPA, such calls are prohibited because, as Congress found, automated or prerecorded telephone calls are a greater nuisance and invasion of privacy than live solicitation calls, and such calls can be costly and inconvenient.
- 67. TD Bank intentionally interfered, physically or otherwise, with the solitude and seclusion of Plaintiff, namely by engaging in unlawful and intrusive communications.
- 68. TD Bank intentionally caused harm to Plaintiff's emotional well-being by engaging in highly offensive conduct in the course of collecting its debt, and thereby invaded and intruded upon Plaintiff's rights to privacy.
- 69. Plaintiff has a reasonable expectation of privacy in his solitude, seclusion, and/or private concerns and affairs.
- 70. These intrusions and invasions against Plaintiff by TD Bank occurred in a way that would be highly offensive to a reasonable person in that position.
- 71. TD Bank received notice stating that it was no longer to contact Plaintiff as he was represented by counsel and revoked his consent to be contacted on his cellular telephone.
- 72. As a result of such invasions of privacy, Plaintiff is entitled to actual damages in an amount to be determined at trial from TD Bank.

Cal. Civ. Code § 3294

73. TD Bank also acted with oppression, fraud, and/or malice, thereby entitling Plaintiff to exemplary damages in an amount according to proof and a finder of fact at trial.

- 74. TD Bank had actual knowledge that it continued to violate both state and federal collection laws as it received notice regarding representation of Plaintiff by an attorney.
- 75. These calls were done with knowledge that Plaintiff was represented by counsel and could not be communicating directly with Plaintiff, let alone using an automated telephone dialing system.
- 76. Given Defendant's knowledge of Plaintiff's representation and revocation of consent, these calls were an attempt to collect a debt in an illegal manner with a conscious disregard for Plaintiff's rights under both the Rosenthal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act and the Telephone Consumer Protection Act.
- 77. Given Defendant's knowledge of Plaintiff's representation and revocation of consent, Defendant's illegal communications were done to intentionally subject Plaintiff to the unjust hardship of receiving at least 85 calls/pre-recorded messages.
- 78. The sheer volume of calls was intentionally designed to exhaust Plaintiff into paying Defendant.
- 79. TD Bank also acted with oppression, fraud, and/or malice, thereby entitling Plaintiff to punitive damages in an amount according to proof and a finder of fact at trial.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

- 87. Defendant would often leave pre-recorded messages on Plaintiff's cellular telephone.
- 88. Defendant's automatic dialing machine contains the capacity to randomly dial telephone numbers.
- 89. All calls placed by Defendant to Plaintiff utilized an "automatic telephone dialing system" as defined by 47 U.S.C. §227(a)(1).
- 90. These calls were made to Plaintiff's cellular telephone and were not calls for an emergency purposed as defined by 47 U.S.C. §227(b)(1)(B).
- 91. Plaintiff expressly revoked any consent that may have previously been given to Defendant to be contacted by an automatic dialing machine in October of 2022.
- 92. These telephone calls by Defendant, or its agent, violated 47 U.S.C. §227(b)(1)(A)(iii).
